IMPORTANT DISCLAIMER

This document has been obtained from DAFWA's research library website (researchlibrary.agric.wa.gov.au) which hosts DAFWA's archival research publications. Although reasonable care was taken to make the information in the document accurate at the time it was first published, DAFWA does not make any representations or warranties about its accuracy, reliability, currency, completeness or suitability for any particular purpose. It may be out of date, inaccurate or misleading or conflict with current laws, polices or practices. DAFWA has not reviewed or revised the information before making the document available from its research library website. Before using the information, you should carefully evaluate its accuracy, currency, completeness and relevance for your purposes. We recommend you also search for more recent information on DAFWA's research library website, DAFWA's main website (https://www.agric.wa.gov.au) and other appropriate websites and sources.

Information in, or referred to in, documents on DAFWA's research library website is not tailored to the circumstances of individual farms, people or businesses, and does not constitute legal, business, scientific, agricultural or farm management advice. We recommend before making any significant decisions, you obtain advice from appropriate professionals who have taken into account your individual circumstances and objectives.

The Chief Executive Officer of the Department of Agriculture and Food and the State of Western Australia and their employees and agents (collectively and individually referred to below as DAFWA) accept no liability whatsoever, by reason of negligence or otherwise, arising from any use or release of information in, or referred to in, this document, or any error, inaccuracy or omission in the information.
CONTENTS

230 New cattle breeds—how do we use them?
Breeding principles underlying the use of new breeds to improve beef production.

235 Farm operations management
A survey of 16 farmers who run unusually large numbers of stock per man.

241 Selenium and sheep health
Selenium and the control of white muscle disease in sheep.

244 Crop variety recommendations for 1974
Detailed wheat, barley, oats, lupins, linseed, rapeseed and field pea variety and planting time recommendations for the 1974 cropping season.

248 Trends in milking systems
Developments in milking system design in Australia.

251 Lot feeding sheep in sheds
A review of experimental work which led to successful commercial shed feeding.

255 Research round-up
Nitrogen for pastures—Time of application of potash—Pheromones in fruit fly and beetle control—Evaporation from a dam—Salt supplements for grain fed weaners.

259 Indexes to Volumes 13 and 14.